

Charanian Reddy - CV

OVERVIEW

I am an ambitious, academically bright and resilient individual. I am currently studying for the English Bar in London and wish to change career paths into investment management. I have made this decision after undertaking a rudimentary economics and corporate finance course taught by an Oxford University tutor as well as having studied company and banking law at University. Specialist skills learnt during the Bar course such as legal research, conference skills, drafting skills and opinion writing will surely be of use in the investment management sector as well.
